

May 22, 2010 – June 20, 2010 A HISTORIC PRESERVATION
& ARCHAEOLOGICAL EXCAVATION OPPORTUNITY

The Western History Center is providing an opportunity for the public to participate in an archaeological excavation. The dig will take place at the site of an old trading post known as Fort Bernard, located on the Oregon Trail. This is an excellent educational experience for individuals as well as for families.

You can participate for one, or for several, days of the May 22nd through June 20th dig.

Fees for participants are tax deductible and will be used to support this important preservation effort.
